Update on the Church Extension

The Church extension is progressing well, the roof blends with very well with the round windows, the committee thought that the village will be pleased that it is in keeping with the Church.

An estimate to refurbish the existing oak door has been received amounting to £7,000, which Gerald Barratt will be told is far too expensive. It has been suggested that to purchase a new oak door from a local craftsman would cost in the region of £2,000.

Madeline reported that the profit raised from the September Song was £528.00.

Brenda wished to express a special thanks to Sylvia Lester for involving Shalford Primary School. The event was a great success, a real team effort Brenda thanked everyone involved for all their help before and after the event.
